EDUCATION: I graduated from Limerick Institute of Technology in 2006 with an honours degree in Multimedia Computing with Interactive Design. The course work included computing programming and practical instruction in what is now the Adobe Creative Suite. I found the balance between both disciplines very interesting and though I enjoyed both I choose to work more with the creative aspect of modern software development, particularly in the online space. The course was balanced in this way primarily to produce graduates who would be in a position to work on teams where usually there is a gulf between designers and coders and in my experience the need for such people only continues to grow. INTERESTS • I love to both listen to and play music. I've played the drums since I was 15 and played and recorded in Ireland's top venues, festivals and studios with a variety of different musicians and styles. • I won numerous medals and trophies for hurling, football, tennis and table tennis. I also enjoy swimming, hiking, cooking and movies. I compiled a portfolio of art work in 6th Year, with which I was accepted to numerous design communication courses. I received certificates for the best results in Art in both 5th and 6th year in school. • I was a prominent member of a Musical production company (Phoenix Productions) for six years and enjoyed performing in lead roles, minor roles and chorus roles in a wide variety of shows. I was heavily involved in the set design, stage management and prop design for a many of the productions. • I travel to Azerbaijan each year (since 2003) in conjunction with a group that help raise money and awareness for the awful living conditions and quality of life in many of the orphanages there. This has been a great experience to see the development and changes for the better in these Orphanages and also a truly life changing experience. • I was a founding member of "The Horizon Project" in Thurles in 2007. €8,500 raised to date for Children of Chernobyl, Hospice, Thurles Suir Haven and over €3,000 from an event for A.W.A.R.E. • I love to travel and all that comes with it, meeting new people, new cultures, experiences and challenges. Most recently I spent 4 months travelling through South East Asia from July 2012, which is a wonderful experience.

Courseware

worked closely with my production team (including an Instructional Designer, Quality Control Specialist, Clinical Trial Expert and Project manager) to complete all tasks required to deliver the training courses, VBVG and other bespoke interactions for both the portal and the mobile platform (iPad). I actively participated in project meetings and project On-Screen Reviews both internally and with Clients.

I worked very closely with technical writers, instructional designers and Clinical experts on the story-boarding process to ensure the courses both looked and flowed well throughout and portrayed all important information in the most effective way.

Physical Examination

Complete Physical Examination, including: Measurement of Weight and Waist Circumference

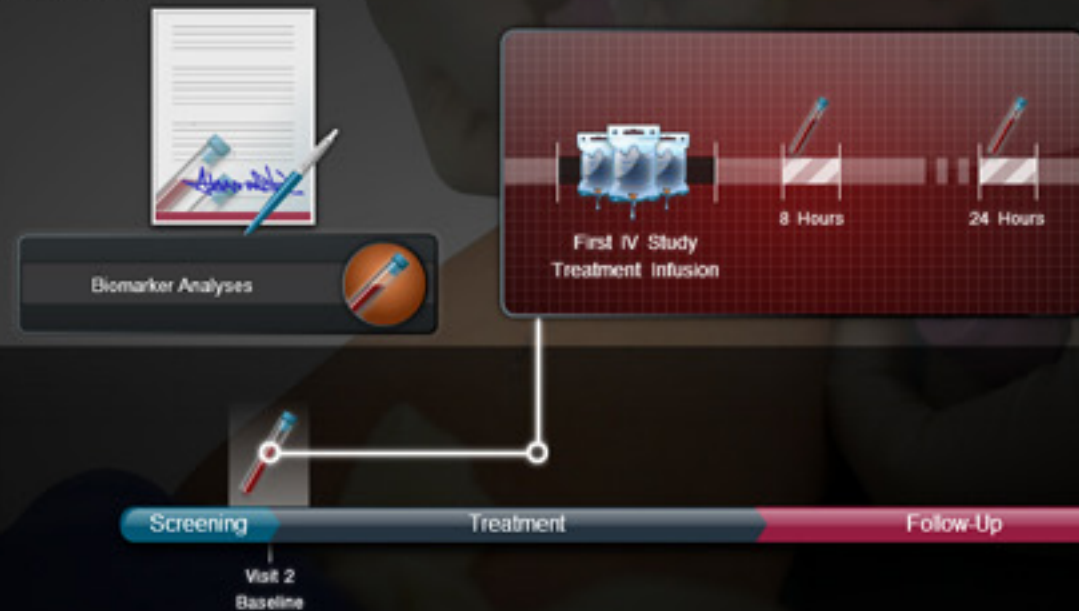

12-Lead ECG

A complete physical examination, including measurement of weight and waist circumference, and a 12-lead ECG, will be conducted at the Screening, Day 1, and End of Treatment visits.

Biomarker Sampling

Biomarker samples will only be taken from patients who consent to the biomarker analyses. Biomarker samples will be taken at Baseline, 8 and 24 hours after the beginning of IV study treatment infusion, and at the EOT visit.

22/24

Administration of the Study Treatment

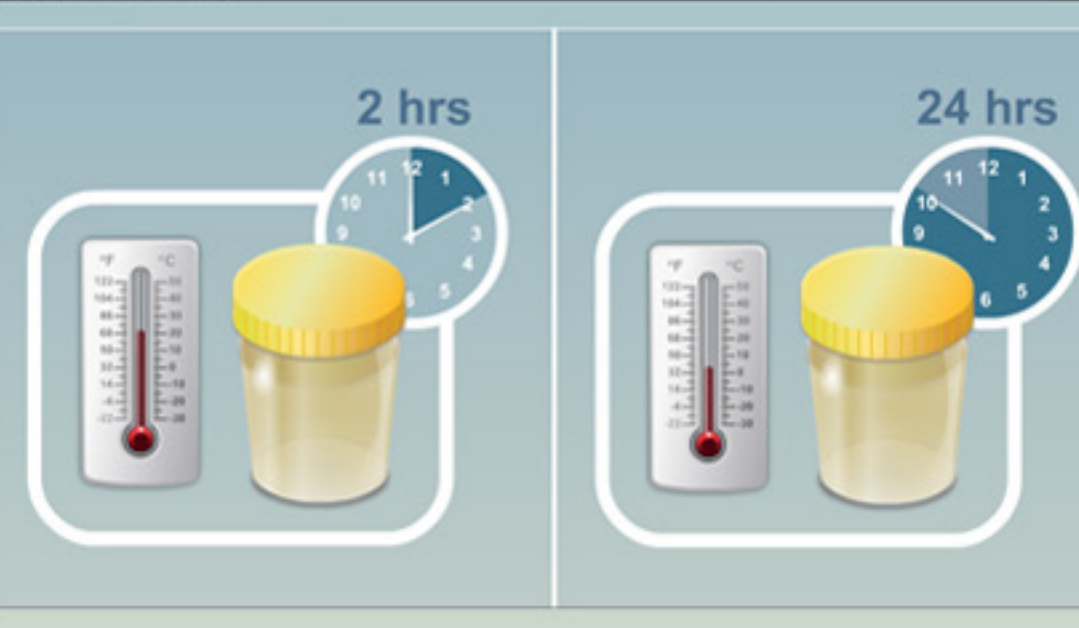

Ceftaroline Fosamil

For example, if the first dose of ceftaroline fosamil commenced at 12 a.m. (i.e. midnight), patients would receive aztreonam placebo at 2 a.m., ceftaroline fosamil at 6 a.m., aztreonam placebo at 10 a.m., vancomycin placebo at 12 p.m. (i.e. noon), ceftaroline fosamil at 4 p.m., and finally an aztreonam placebo at 6 p.m., and so on.

3/16

Processing Urine Specimens

The urine specimen received by your laboratory should be processed within 2 hours if held at room temperature. Alternatively, the specimen may be processed within 24 hours if it is stored at 4°C.

Mobile Platform

y production team were selected to produce Firecrest's new mobile Visit-By-Visit-Guide which involved working closely with the Software development department and creating layouts, graphics, interactions, videos and layouts. We documented the process and lessons learned throughout the development process.

During this I designed a new solution for Laboratory interactions as an alternative to the existing flash based solution. From talking to nurses and other users it emerged the existing solution was not meeting their needs and was not of much benefit to them on site. After some research I designed a new system based on the cycle of a sample tube inspired by The London "Tube" station maps. The end result has proved very successful and have been applied across all projects that have the mobile Visit-by-Visit Guide.

Health & Safety

Farm and School Safety

This was a freelance project I worked on for ALISON. This new suite of Interactive courseware was commissioned by the Health & Safety Authority of Ireland (HSA), and was aimed at Irish children in both primary and Secondary School.

I worked as a graphic designer and animator on this project, creating the background elements, both indoor and outdoor, from the scenery to appliances. I also created all the animals and vehicles and various hazards throughout.

There was a team of three on this project, a actionscript developer and two graphic designers.

Health & Safety

Teachers and Construction workers

lison hired me to create a working interactive demo for the HSA: (Health & Safety Authority), which then led to ALISON winning a tender to develop a whole suite of courseware which I worked on for 10 months.

I was the head designer and head developer (excluding the player functionality) on the team for this project. I created all Flash templates and guidelines for development as well as the graphics and animation style template for the other developers on the team.

The suite included courses for:

- Principles of Schools
- Technology Teacher
- Science Teachers
- Transition Year Students
- Construction Workers

Courses and Apps

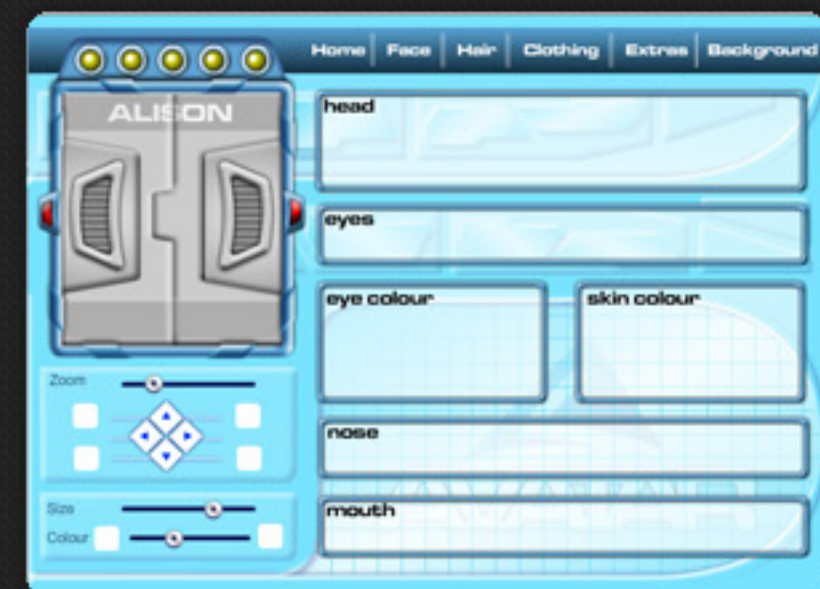

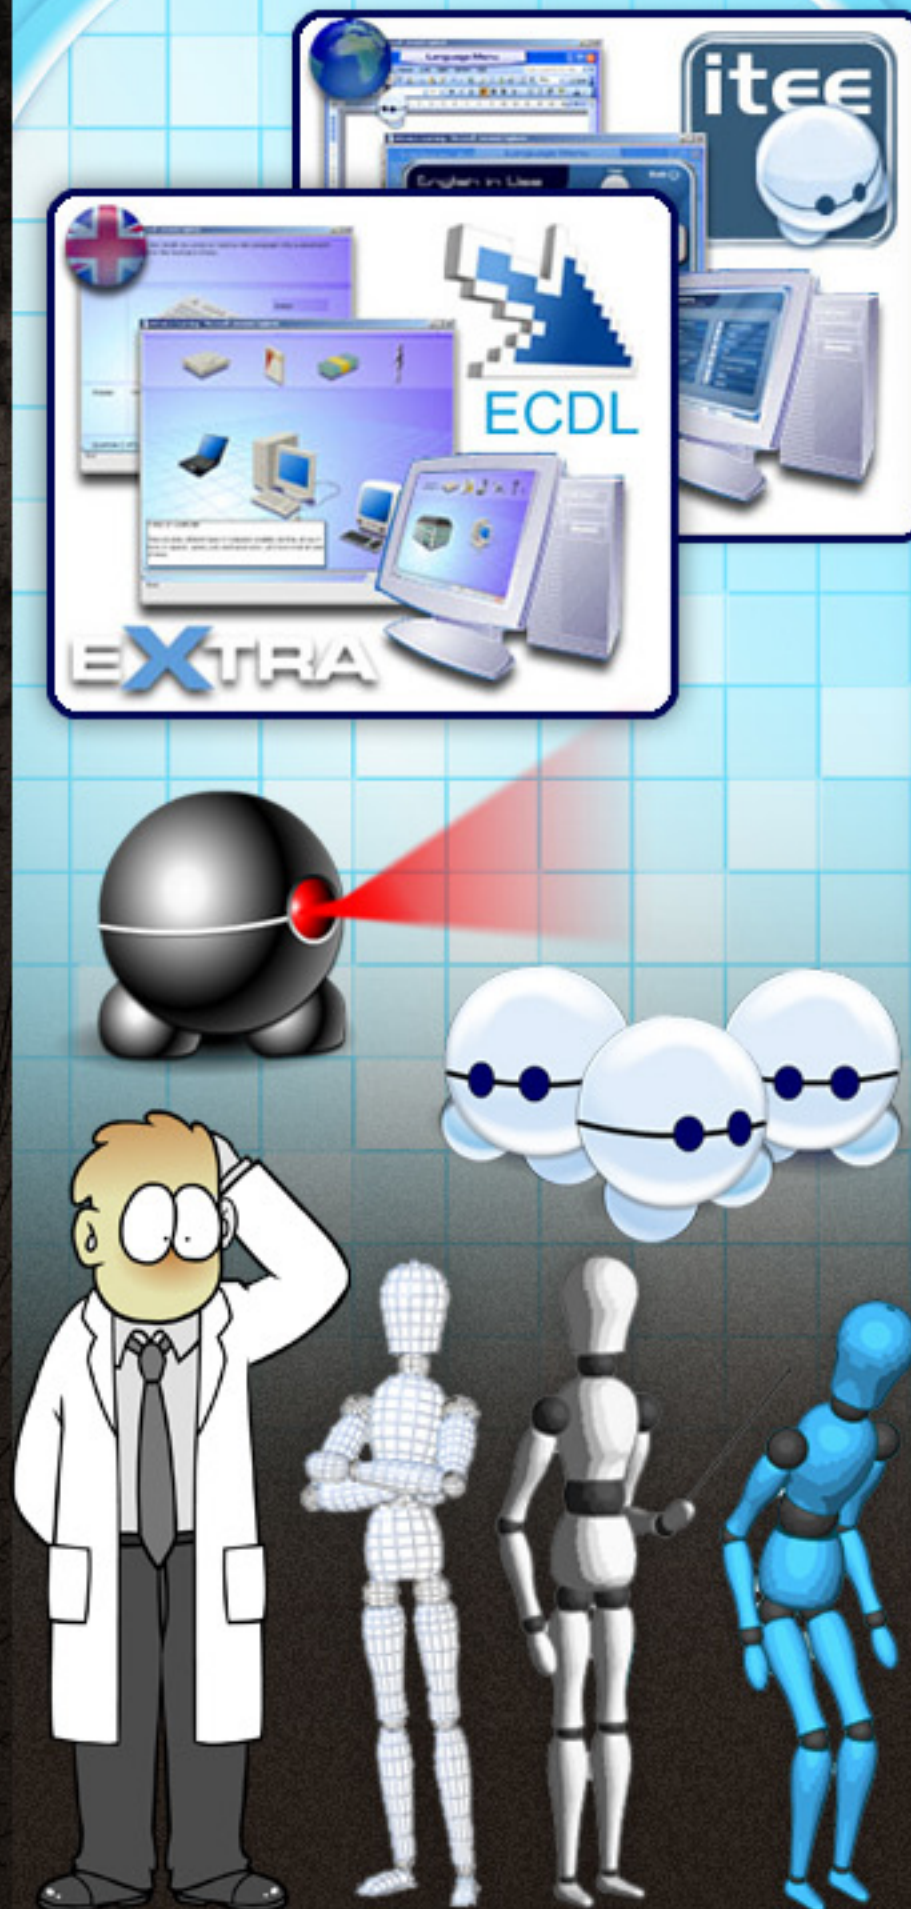

While working at ALISON, I worked on a wide variety of projects including various courseware, videos for the website, flash applications for both the clients and the website as well as for promotional purposes, both as a designer and developer.

On starting work with ALISON I was working on the ECDL projects creating graphics, animations and interactions for these courses. After this I worked on a variety of bespoke courses for computer basics and introduction to technology and hardware.

The next major project was with the British Council, where we created an I.T and English Essentials course which was for non-English speakers to learn English while also learning about computing. We incorporated language training, a glossary and a dictionary as well as quizzes and worksheets.

Desktop Ergonomics was a course I designed with an instructional designer for educating people about the principles of workstation ergonomics, good posture and some preventative measures to the reduce risk of injury.

A selection of web design (HTML, CSS, Flash & PHP)

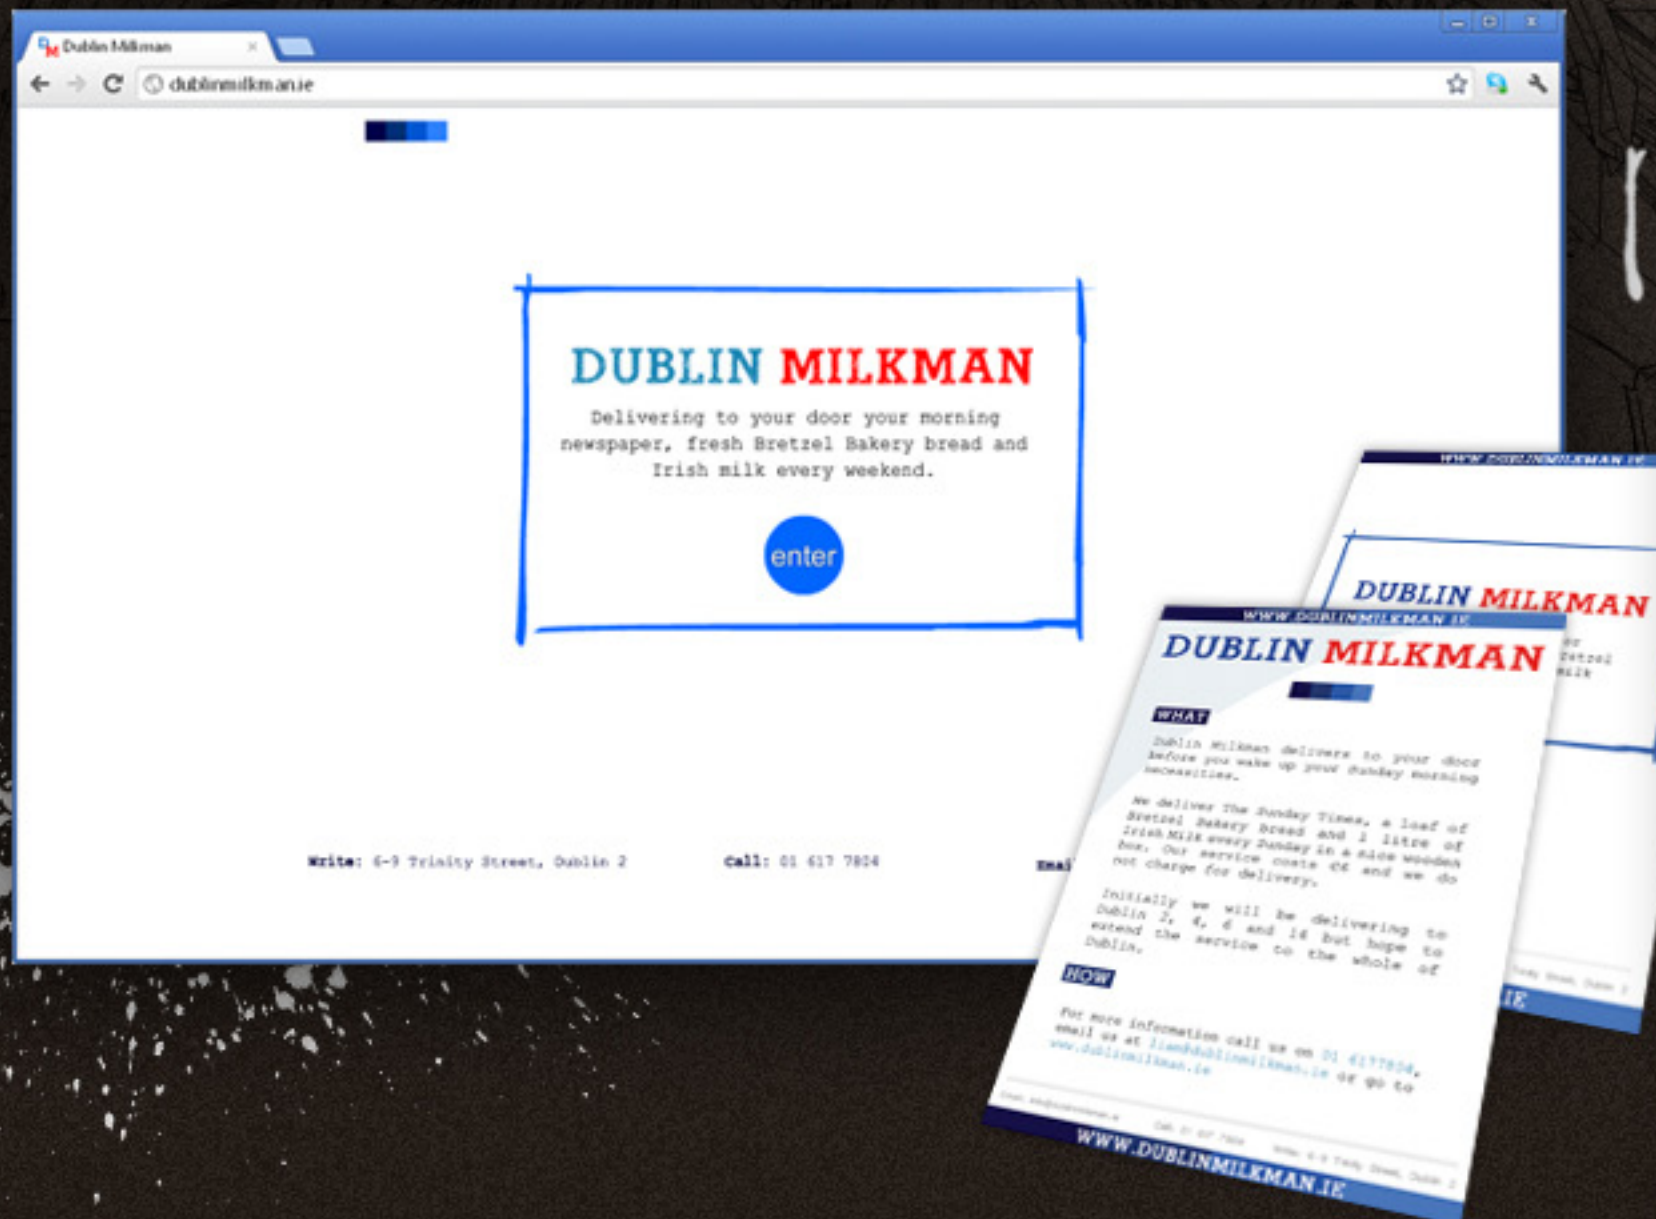

Dublin Milkman

Dublin Milkman asked me to design and develop a Flash website for them as well as a HTML page for non-Flash users in March 2010. They wanted a very clean and simple animated site flash website. Using PHP Forms the user can register their interest, place their order online for the variety of products and we worked with Realex Payments to handle the Credit Card payments.

I also created the marketing material I also created the marketing material for the company including a HTML email campaign, letterheads, A6 flyers and a series of adverts that ran in the Sunday Sunday Times from December '10 through to February '11.

Portobello Institute

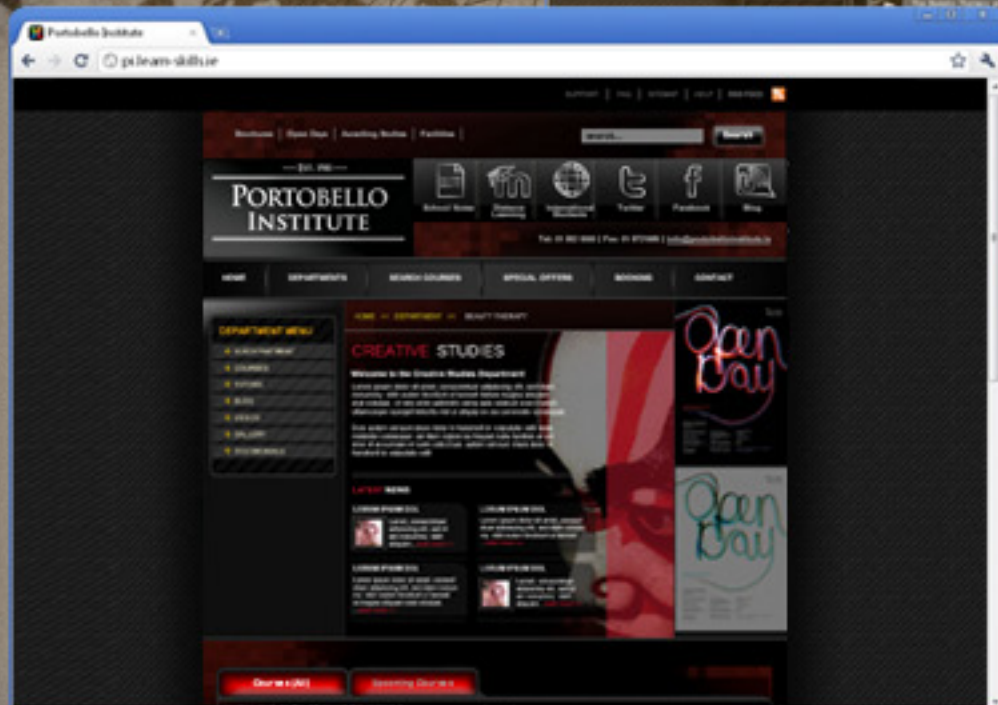

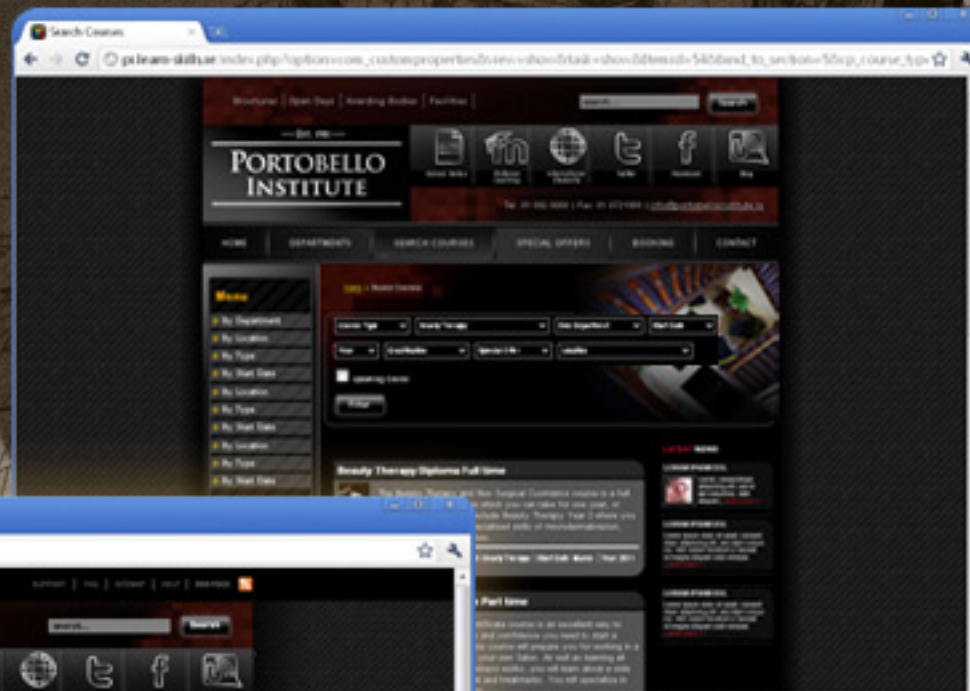

earnskill.org hired me as the Web Designer for Portobello Institute's (Dublin) website redesign which went live in December 2010.

The management at Portobello wanted the site to be black and grey, so from this I created the following designs. During this project I worked very closely with the development team at www.learn-skills.org, supplying all the initial designs, layouts and necessary images throughout the development process.

As well as this is a selection of screen shots from my old Portfolio which was a flash website, heavily animated and highly interactive.

I also made a series of banner adds in different sizes for ALISON to promote new courses, upcoming courses and deals.

Vince Productions

Vince Productions is a musical theatre company based in Ireland. I was hired by the producers to create an A2 Poster, A6 Flyers and a programme for the shows.

After being to a few musicals and noticing that a lot of people leave the programme behind as it's awkward to carry, I decided to make a programme that folded down to A6 and fit perfectly in a back pocket or handbag.

I also worked the nights of the show and created animations that were projected onto the backdrop during each scene and between each of the performances.

Jester

Jester is the band I have played drums with for the past 7 years. We toured Ireland regularly and released a number of singles two of which entered into Irelands Top 20 singles chart over a number of weeks.
